

European Seminar on Maritime Education and Training

One Day Conference Thursday, 28th June 2012 (09:00-14:00) Facultat de Nàutica de Barcelona
Admission FREE

MariFuture platform is happy to announce its network that a European Seminar on Maritime Education and Training is being hosted by the UniMET partnership. The partnership is involved in a EU funded project called UniMET to help harmonise Marine Education and Training across Europe by raising awareness and transferring the good practices of member states MET systems with the ultimate aim of improving the level of safety at sea worldwide.

A distinguished forum of national and international speakers will discuss best practices in Maritime Education and Training, focussing on the future opportunities to improve the quality and standards in MET institutions. The symposium will seek ideas to improve the current situation and look at the issue from the view of different Maritime professionals, academics, policy makers and international organisations.

Topics for discussions at the UniMET symposium will include:

- Best practices in MET in Europe
- Enhancing standards of MET over and above the existing STCW
- Demonstrating the need for standards in Maritime English
- Enabling further mobility of seafarers across Europe and Worldwide
- Engaging policy makers to support and adopt UniMET programmes

More information about UniMET and seminar updates will be posted on UniMET website. For any queries such as agenda and speakers, please do not hesitate to contact seminar director, Germán de Melo at demelo@fnb.upc.edu.
